Fire Sweeps Over Town Of Lacombe.

Lacombe, Sept. 8.—The pretty little thriving town of Lacombe had a visitation by the destroying element of fire this morning, which wiped out an entire block and caused losses totalling close to $100,000.

The principal losers are:

Adelphi hotel.....$35,000
A. M. Campbell, store.....$15,000
Titworth Confectionery Co. $8,000
Morris & Johnston.....7,000
Lacombe Drug Co.....6,000
Ross Drug Co.....5,000
J. McCreary, real estate.....2,000
Dr. Ayinger, dentist.....3,000
Corbett & Dreyer, law office unknown.
Trimble & Peck, law office unknown.

The area swept by fire was the whole of the triangular block to the west of the Canadian Pacific railway station and south of Main St. Only one building escaped, the Merchant's Bank, a three story brick, situated on the corner where the fire brigade had access to two sides of it. It was only after a heroic fight, however, that the bank building was saved.

On the north side of the street the large stores of Burdick & Blair Morris & Johnston were only saved after the hardest kind of a fight. As it was the whole store front of Burdick & Blair's establishment was scorched and blackened with the heat, the windows broken and the awnings burned off. A gentle northeast wind was blowing at the time, which, while it fanned the devouring flames, saved the balance of the town.

The fire was first discovered at three o'clock this morning issuing from the roof of the implement shed accepted by Morris & Johnston. It was already a vicious blaze when first seen and although an alarm was sent in at once and the entire town turned out to fight the fire, it was already beyond control, and it was impossible to save the block. Lacombe has a very fine fire equipment for a small town, consisting of a modern gasoline pump, hook and ladder outfit and chemicals and there was plenty of water accessible in deep wells close to hand, which enabled the fire boys to put up a grand fight to save the balance of the town. Morris & Johnston's implement shed was situated about midway in the block and the fire spread east and west, working back to the street on the south side and clearing everything as it went. A heroic effort was made to save the goods and chattels from the burning buildings, but so fierce was the fire that very little salvage was accomplished.

A call for help came from Lacombe for the service of the Red Deer Fire Brigade, and the boys were out sharp, and were soon loaded up on a special for the run up the line.

Their service were not required, however, but the boys were ready.

Building Permits.

The building permits issued in the town of Red Deer for the month of August amounted to $11,900. A good sign of steady growth.

The Nationalist, a Montreal paper, forces the day when a French Canadian will out no ice in Canada. Its article is founded on the recent report of the Minister of the Interior, showing the immigration for the past year to have reached 189,064 of which number 2,380 only were French and Belgians. Taking as a basis those figures, as well as the statistics for the past five or six years the writer concludes that a continuance of such a state of things will bring on in twenty-five the disappearance of the French Canadians as a race. The public documents, he says inform us that since 1901 the francophones of the Department of the Interior have brought in 580,222 immigrants; 573,064 do not speak a word of French, and according to the calculations of Sir Wilfrid Laurier himself, at least two million three hundred thousand immigrants will have settled in the North West between 1901 and 1911. This increase will necessitate seventy-eight new members of parliament for the west, and the French-Canadians will then have only 65 members in the House of Commons on a total of 290 or 300, instead of 85 or 214 as at present. In 1931, Canada having a population of twenty-five millions at least, it will be decided in order not to have too numerous a parliament, to reduce to twenty or thirty the members from the province of Quebec who will then stand twenty or thirty representatives out of a House say of four hundred members.

THE BUOYANCY OF THE WEST.

There are still a number of people in the East who shake their heads at what they term the boom of the west, and all sorts of disaster is predicted in the near future. It is hard to convince these people that there is a buoyancy, but no booming. The pessimists should face the facts, and follow the development that is going on. The vast amount of grain alone that is being produced makes convincing evidence. Careful and conservative estimates have been made of the quantities of wheat, oats and barley, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta have produced this year, and the result figures out in this way.

Wheat, 91,813,900 bus. at 68 c.,	$62,438,452
Oats, 80,854,080 bus. at 23 c.,	$18,696,910
Barley, 17,735,790 bus. at 30 c.,	$5,320,370
Total,	$86,455,732

This amount for grain alone, leaving aside all other products is more than impressive. It is almost startling.

Then let the Eastern doubter remember that the above is from a population of scarcely one million of people all told, of whom the farmers are only a part, and even this, too, from a total possible acreage than can scarcely be said to have been more than touched.

What will be the result in a few years when five or ten millions of people are in the country, and they may fairly be said to be in sight? Is there not more than good reason for buoyancy?

The pessimist however passes all this by, still shakes his head, and cries out, "wait for bad seasons." Of course there will be bad seasons; there are in every country, but they are not perpetual. Nowhere in the world, owing to the depth and fertility of the soil, will there be fewer set-backs than in the Canadian west.

Against failures, there is the great quantity of available land in the west, and the steady yearly influx of settlers that is bound to continue and cannot be stayed. The flow of Immigration from Europe will go on under any circumstances, while of greater benefits than all are the best of settlers from the United States a bona fide and certain to be constant overflow from the now congested farming districts of that country. The new settlers and the new land yearly that will be put into crops assure a great average that will more than compensate for bad seasons; while in the good seasons the harvest will be enormous.

The Eastern doubter must realize the facts, and recognize a justifiable reason for the buoyancy of the West. The sails are set to a fair wind, and all that is necessary is to steady the ship and the cargo will be safely landed to the great advantage of Canada as a whole and the Eastern part in particular.—Herald.

THE RACE FOR THE YELLOWHEAD.

Deep down in the nature of man is an inherent love of the contested race. It is displayed in the playgrounds of youth and the crowded racetracks of more mature years. In the virile west it is particularly evident in the contests of business, the rivalry of enterprise. It pervades communities, and strenuous are the efforts for preeminence among the rival villages and towns of western Canada.

There is pending, however, a contest, a race in harmony not only with the spirit of man but of the age and the country, that will appeal to the imagination of the world—the race of three great railway companies for the Yellowhead pass, which extends in comparatively easy grades through the Rocky Mountains.

The Yellowhead, or Jasper pass has been considered by many engineers to be the most favorably located pass for a railway as to grades and natural advantages through the Rockies. The reasons that dictated the change of the original plans of the Canadian Pacific railway as to the Yellowhead pass need not be entered into now. It remains that there are many indications that the three great Canadian railway corporations of western Canada, the Canadian Pacific, the Canadian Northern and Grand Trunk Pacific, are desirous of having the pick of the location for a railway line through what, from an engineering point of view, is a series of narrow defiles. The definite plans of these corporations are, as such plans invariably are, a profound secret, but that the choice of location will be raced for is believed.

Man may dearly love a race, but nowhere, probably, could there be a more Titanic struggle than that of thousands of railroad builders a side constructing day by day through forests and foothills a roadway of steel towards the same goal—a cleft in the eternal mountains of rock and snow. Spectacular beyond the dreams of the most imaginative in times of peace would be the struggle in the money markets of the world; the competing skill of the greatest engineers, the executive ability of the great contractors and the strong arms of the myriads of workmen in the race of the great railways of Canada in the shadow of the awe-inspiring mountains in a gigantic race for the Yellowhead pass.—Telegram.

Two More Storeys.

Charles. Cookshutt, of the Cookshutt Plow Co. of Brantford said his company intended to proceed at once with enlarging their wholesale premises in Calgary by adding two more storeys.

This step, he said, was made necessary by the rapid way their business was increasing. The company has three big depots in the west, one at Winnipeg one at Regina, and one at Calgary. The demand for plows for the prairies has been so great that considerable additions have had to be made to their works at Brantford.

Latimer and Botterill, of Red Deer handle the Cookshutt Plows. They are also enlarging their warehouses and are installing a new elevator to meet the demands of an increasing business.

Alberta Starts Its Telephone Work.

This week the Alberta government inaugurates its long distance system. It will start a line from Calgary to Banff. The construction of the work will be under the direction of James Grier-son of Calgary, who has been appointed superintendent of construction for the Alberta government.

The work will be rushed and it is expected that the government will give the people of Banff, Canmore, Bankhead, Exshaw, Cochrane, Morley and other intervening points the Christmas privilege of speaking on a long distance line between themselves and with Calgary.

This is the beginning of the long distance system to be inaugurated by the Alberta administration. The material is now almost

No Glanders in Alberta.

C. W. Peterson, secretary of the Calgary Horse Breeders Association has been informed of the result of the mallein test upon the Alberta horses purchased by the British remount officers. The test is made for glanders. The animals showed not the slightest reaction. This is absolute proof that there were no glanders among these horses, and good proof that the province of Alberta is pretty free from the disease.

Irrigation in Red Deer District.

George Lang and Paul Paradise left Friday morning with a party of surveyors to enquire into the feasibility of a scheme of irrigation for a tract of land fifty five miles east of Red Deer in the vicinity of Sullivan Lake the land is proposed to irrigate, extends for about fifty miles by eighty.

It will be supplied by the Red Deer river. If the proposition is feasible it will be financed to the extent of two million dollars by English capitalists.—Albertan.

Rapid Growth of Vermillion.

Vermillion, Sept. 4.—Vermillion, but ten months old, has now much pride in proclaiming to the world that here is a town of lusty growth and bustling business activity. The incorporation of Vermillion as a town was proclaimed on Tuesday, and on Friday, Earl Grey visited the town when a celebration was held to mark the elevation in municipal status.

The Bull's Eye of the Saskatchewan Valley, that is Vermillion. On April 1st, 1906 it was an organized municipality and had a board of trade. It had a newspaper, seven general stores, three restaurants and other business establishments too numerous to mention. It also had a public school, a Presbyterian and a Methodist church.

Vermillion is a divisional point on the main line of the Canadian Northern, 139 miles east of Edmonton, and is destined to be a railway centre. There are daily trains to Edmonton and Winnipeg.

A Gold Find.

A story is passing around the city to-day of a rich gold find in the Peace River district.

The rumor gained ground from some remarks dropped by several surveyors recently returned from the north.

The surveyors, upon being questioned, admitted that gold had been found in various quantities. They would not make a statement, however, as to whether the pockets discovered were rich as had been reported. It is evident, that there is something doing, as arrivals from the north country some few weeks ago are known to have quietly slipped off north again after having gone south from Edmonton and returned within a fortnight. Several parties have quietly outfitted and started off unostentatiously to the lands where it is mysteriously rumored that the rich deposits have been found. Should the stories prove true there is every probability of the Klondyke rush being repeated.—Journal.

September Canadian Magazine.

There is a variety of interest in the September Canadian Magazine. Eric Waters describes in a bright yet vigorous manner the delights of a day in Venice, the home of the Gondolier, the city of colour. Bonnycastle Dale writes of the maskinonge as he has seen it in the Rice Lake District.

The spawning period was that chosen for investigation and some new facts are recorded. The photographs are unusual. Archibald MacMechan gives a characteristic sketch of De Mille, the Nova Scotian humorist and novelist, now almost forgotten, with reproductions of some of his humorous sketches. Norman Patterson describes the "Evolution of a Department Store," giving a history of its rise and an economic view of its functions. This is profusely illustrated. J. E. B. McCready writes of the most tragic illness of Sir John Mac Donald in 1870, and the events of that time. Thorleif Larsen, a young Canadian of Norse descent has a character sketch of that greatest of Norwegian literary men, Henrik Ibsen. The stories are by M. B. Parent, Emily Rhode, Mrs. Praed, N. De Bertrand Lugin and the late Kate Westlake Yeigh. The departments are packed full.

Three Trains A Day.

Vancouver, Sept. 6.—To operate three transcontinental trains daily each way and reduce the time between Vancouver and Montreal to ninety hours, is what the C. P. R. intends to do next spring. The C. P. R. officials at Montreal have stated that the transcontinental service would be again increased next year. The two new trains which will be put on the run will be built especially for this service and will be fixed up in palatial style. At present there are two trains each way daily on the route, and even with that service the trains are crowded. British tourist traffic to and from the Orient nearly all passes through Canada now, and with the new schedule which went into effect last week with the Overseas Mail the time is materially affected. Early in the spring the new trains will be put on the route and with a service of ninety hours from Montreal to Vancouver the transcontinental service of the C. P. R. will be the fastest transcontinental service on the continent.

900,000 Bushels Marketed.

Winnipeg, Sept. 6.—Wheat receipts at Canadian Pacific points took another big jump upwards yesterday, when 311,000 bu. were marketed by Manitoba and Saskatchewan farmers. It is apparent that one or two million bushels of wheat will be marketed this year during a period in which practically no wheat was marketed in the corresponding time last season. Up to today there has been marketed at C. P. R. points a total of 869,000 bu. of wheat and 30,000 bus. of other grains. In the corresponding period of last year there was marketed only 18,000 bus. of wheat. One year ago yesterday there were marketed only 13,000. The sample is said to be very satisfactory, most of the grain delivered being No. 1 Northern.

About the usual quantity of grain is being shipped direct by the farmers, much the larger amount being delivered to the elevators.

HOW WEASELS HUNT.

The graceful pose of the Animals was on a trail.

The little grace of the weasel may be observed whenever it is on the trail. At an even speed, with nose to the ground, the reddish brown back seen alternately to glide along through the rank herbage by the bank.

It may be the scent of a rat, and the trail may take it in and out of the bank a good many times before it comes up with its victim. It may even have to swim a stream before the persistence in following the trail of the small hole that long, arched body can glide into and emerge from without the slightest difficulty.

When it has caught and killed its prey its movements are equally graceful as it carries the spoil home to its hole. Crossing a knobby field I saw a weasel coming along under the hedge-row red toothed from the chase. There was the same sinuous motion of the back, but the little animal was held as high as possible and from its mouth hung the limp carcass of a young rat, freshly killed. The weasel held it by the neck and brought it to the shore of its legs, that only the end of the rat's tail dragged through the grass.

A family of weasels will often hunt in company, and this is naturally a most interesting sight to witness. The ability of the weasel to enter exceedingly small holes is owing entirely to the structure of its body—its flat head, long neck and short limbs and tail. In contrast it can pursue mice and rats along their burrows—London Mail.

GAME DOGS AND GAME.

A remarkable instance of the influence of heredity.

Where Taxes are Unknown.

Orin, in Sweden, has in the course of a generation won $5,000,000 worth of trees and by means of judicious replanting has provided for a similar income for his family for the next century.

Worth Knowing.

"Yes, like to know her?"

"No, thank you. Handsome but she's weary."

"Yes, she made it herself."

"Eh! Introduce me, please."

GLEANINGS.

Korea is taking more to beer drinking than either Japan or China.

There are about annually on the German coast 10,000,000 pounds of shipwrecks, most of which are netted at depths of 100 to 200 fathoms.

Milking Notes.

Commence milking at the same hour every morning and evening and milk the cows in the same order.

The first few streams of milk from each teat should not be milked into the pail, for this milk is very watery, is of low value and is often very contaminated, which will injure the rest of the milk.

The Crop For the Mite.

In testing the mite you can figure about fifty pounds of algae to the cubic foot, which will give you an idea of the amount of crop required to fill the size you intend to build.

IN HISTORIC GLENCOE.

Where Lord Strathcona Lives—Canadian High Commissioner Has Magnificent Property in Scotland.

Kilnchobeg, which includes Blackcorries, in the parish of Lismore and Appin and County of Argyll, has an area of about 30,000 acres. The main shieling known as Meallanruadh (Meal n' Ruadh), of triangular shape, which lies in the middle of the former estate part of Ballachulish estate, but is rented by Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, the property of King.

Twenty Merks Land.

Lord Strathcona's estate forms the bulk of what was in the seventeenth century known as the 'Twenty Merks' lands of Glencoe. In the Lordship of Lorn, which formed the subject of a grant by James Earl of Perth to John Stewart of Ardaraich in 1641, was then held in feu of the Earl of Argyll. In 1685 Stewart of Ardaraich submitted part of the lands to Macdonald of Archaichair, and in 1693 another part to Macdonald of Glencoe, and he was then to have the whole of the estate. In 1701 he sold the remainder to Robert Stewart of Appin. Subsequently the lands were sold to John Macdonald of Archaichair, who was acquired by the proprietor of the estate of Appin, and the lands were then sold to Lord Strathcona, who was then the proprietor of the estate of Appin.

Twenty Merks.

Lord Strathcona acquired the lands which were sold to him in 1897 by Macdonald of Glencoe and also parts of the 'Twenty Merks' land of Glencoe in which he had a considerable interest. The large mansion erected by Lord Strathcona was designed by Sir Rowland Trevelyan, and was built on a site of about 250,000 acres, including the lands of the 'Twenty Merks' and also parts of the 'Twenty Merks' land of Glencoe. WORKINGMEN'S BAND.

Famous Black Dike Mills Musical Organization of Yorkshire Coming to Canada Next Year.

Following the visits of several army bands from the Old Country, Canada is now to hear the premier prize band of Great Britain—the famous "Black Dike Mills Band."

The Black Dike Mills are situated in the village of Queensbury, which is one of the most beautiful villages in the great manufacturing city of Bradford, Yorkshire. Here for a hundred years musical entertainments have been cultivated, and to such good purpose that the name of Black Dike is familiar as a household word from John O'Grada's to Land's End. For over fifty years the great firm of John Foster & Son, whose extensive mills cover fifteen acres, and employ nearly 5,000 workpeople in the production of all kinds of iron and steel, and also of brass, copper, and other metals, have maintained the band in a state of the highest efficiency.

Benefit of Clover on Land.

The chief value of plowing under a crop of clover lies, then, in the addition of humus and its associated mineral plant food and in the addition of nitrogen. By its subsequent decay the soil of the turned under clover these constituents are converted into available form for future use for farm crops and fruits. While the growth and harvesting of other crops leave the soil poorer in nitrogen, the growth of clover, even when the crop has been harvested and the roots left in the soil, leaves the soil invariably richer in this constituent.

Never Lost a Day's Work.

William Phillips, who lives in High Wycombe, was born on Jan. 29, 1832. He is now a pensioner, and throughout his life he never lost a day's work. He was a member of the army for many years, and was a member of the army for many years.

Wedding a Landlord.

An amusing account was given in the Sherbrooke County Court of how a man had for six months past cleverly evaded his landlord, until, as counsel said, it was found that he had become positively distracted.

Counsel (to the landlord)—How did he keep out of the Old Country? The landlord—Used to come to the front entrance, blow me a kiss, and walk out at the back (Laughter).

And did he remain a prisoner in his house during that time? Not a bit of it. He was out every day, and he was out every day. He was out every day, and he was out every day.

A Chesterfield Retort.

When Lord Chesterfield was in his last illness and his death was only a matter of a few weeks, his physicians advised him to go for an easy drive in his carriage, and he went out. As the carriage was proceeding slowly along it was met by a lady, who remarked pleasantly to the great invalid, "Ah, my lord, I am glad to see you able to drive out!" "I am not driving out, madam," answered Chesterfield, "I am simply relieving my funeral."

Safe Use of Lime. Dr. Hopkins tells the farmers of the state (Illinois) that he never will recommend the use of any material that would injure it in the long run. He suggests only natural material, and that the source of the lime in the soil is limestone. The tendency of burnt lime—caustic lime—is to burn the soil, and to destroy the life of the soil. It is absolutely harmless, and it does the work of destroying the soil.
